May 18, 2005

Dear Quad Alumni,

Once again, I'm in the pleasant position to be able to report that 2005 has been a happy, successful year for the Princeton Quadrangle Club! Quad's undergraduate membership cannot remember the Clubhouse ever looking as good as it does now, featuring a new dining room floor this year. Our members can't stop smiling about it.

And the Clubhouse isn't the only reason. Our members are fanatically appreciative of the opportunities that membership in the Quadrangle Club provides them, both academically and socially. To provide further proof of this, enclosed you will find the first edition of "The Moosehead Quarterly," a newsletter that comes straight from our undergraduates directly to your doorstep. I hope it will remind you of your time here as a member!

Getting back to alumni and your benefits... as you no doubt are aware, Reunions are just around the corner, from May 26-29th, 2005. As always, we will make sure the clubhouse is open throughout the weekend for you and your families to come by and visit. Additionally, we will once again be hosting two separate meals for alumni and their families on Saturday May 28th:

8:00am – 1:30pm: For you early birds, Quad will have a continental breakfast available, starting at 8am. But the main attraction is Quad's famous full-featured brunch buffet (for which a nominal contribution is requested), which starts at 9am and continues until just prior to the P-rade. You won't find better food anywhere in Princeton!

3:30pm – 6:30pm: Quad hosts our traditional free barbeque for all Quad alumni and their whole families. Beer and wine will be available for the adults while the kids play in our fabulous yard.

Beyond Reunions, once again this summer, the club is hosting a number of alumni events and functions. If you're considering an event in Princeton, I encourage you to contact Neville Sutherland or me to see if Quad can meet your needs. Our facilities are wonderful, and alumni pricing is hard to beat!

I hope everyone agrees that with the club rolling along the way it has been for the past several years, our future prospects continue to be as strong as ever. I welcome your comments and questions, and look forward to seeing many of you at Reunions 2005. Enjoy the summer!

Sincerely,

Dinesh Maneyapanda '94
